

Locally Loved

The Elder Farm Classic Hard Cider

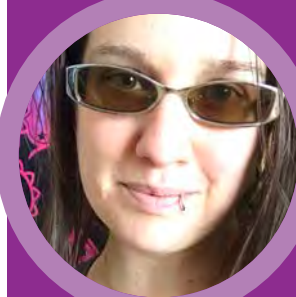

I love this cider. It's locally made, from local apples, and it is the best hard cider I've ever had. The Classic is a little dry and balances nicely between sweet and tart.

Italian Sweet Peppers

These peppers are sweet and crisp. Their flesh is thinner than regular bell peppers which make them great for snacking on raw.

Willy Street Co-op Lemon Cheesecake Bars

These bars are delicious—creamy filling, lemon flavor that isn't overpowering, a great little treat if you want something sweet but not too sweet.

La Campagne Bakery Cranberry Oatmeal Cookies

These cookies are just extra delicious. All of them. Big and homemade. They are in the bread section, so only those in the know or lucky enough to make eye contact and sense that these cookies are special will be blessed with their splendor. Can YOU find them?

Feed Bakery Chocolate Chip Cookies

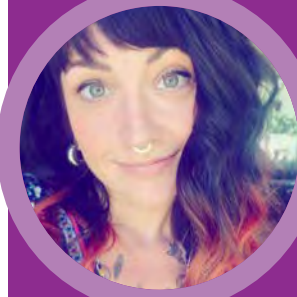

These cookies are fresh, soft, chewy, and delicious! Everything a chocolate chip cookie should be. I like to buy the three-pack as a snack and if I'm feeling generous I might even share one with a friend!

Nutcrack Candied Pecans

The perfect balance of salty and sweet! I'd like to think I buy these to use on salads but it's often impossible not eat an entire can in one sitting. Bonus: they are vegan! Extra Bonus: they are locally made by a father and son on Atwood Avenue!

Off The Block Hot Salsa

The flavor is so good and how it got started is an even better story. It's a local product and Black-owned business. Not only is the company made for a good cause but the product is fabulous too.

Bunky's Hummus

This hummus is about as soft and luxurious as hummus could be. It's a great local on-the-go addition to summer picnics and cloud-watching lunches.

Willy Street Co-op Vegan Smokey Black Bean & Sweet Potato Salad

Great mix of tangy and light spiciness, this salad is an excellent side for tacos or any grill-ready food.

Bleu Mont Bandaged Cheddar

Aged at least a year in an underground cave, this cheddar strikes the perfect balance between sweet caramel flavor and toasty nuttiness. The mossy finish from the rind adds another layer of complexity to this classic English-style cheddar. Pair it with the fancy IPA of your choice and settle in.

Carr Valley Cold Pack Cheese Spreads

If you've never tried it, you're missing the bus to flavor town.

Silver Creek Venison Pork & Beef Summer Sausage

It's locally made and great for snacking and entertaining. Available at East and North only.

New Glarus Staghorn Oktoberfest

A smooth amber body with an incredible spice bouquet. Pairs well with some Swedish meatballs or Friday Fish Fry!

Pristine Apple

All the tangy sweetness of a Sour Patch Kid, but with the healthful fiber of actual plant matter. The perfect snack.

Door County Peaches

Local peach grown on a small farm that's transitioning to organic. I just gotta support that! It sure helps that they're sweet and juicy, too.
